SAYS BROAD VIEWS NOW ARE ESSENTIAL

H. G. Selfridge on Business Differences Between U. S. and England.

BICKERINGS DUE TO GREED

BY GORDON STILES.
Cablegram to The Evening Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1919.
LONDON, June 9.—It is only the adoption of broad and liberal views in commercial affairs which will do away with business misunderstandings between England and the United States. That is the opinion of H. Gordon Selfridge, who came from Chicago and built up the greatest department store business in the British Isles.
"The occasional small bickerings which we hear about are due to needless disagreements on the part of business men whose attitude is the result of greed and pettiness," said Mr. Selfridge. "Such can be found on both sides of the Atlantic. They only place difficulties in the way of those who are honestly trying to reach that common ground of commercial understanding which is not only desirable but necessary to the welfare of both nations. A man must look beyond his own office doors in these times. He must realize that others are in the same position that he is and that an amicable give-and-take policy is the sort that will pay in the long run."

Holds Restrictions Retard Trade.
"Do you think that the present trade restrictions in England are harmful in their effect upon the general business situation?" I asked him.
"No doubt certain of these restrictions are necessary, but I believe that if most of them were removed and an approximate return to pre-war conditions in trade regulations were brought about the business men of the two countries would straighten out matters more quickly and satisfactorily than the bureaucrats will. A bureau must follow the procedure laid down to the employer without discrimination, while we know that each individual deal carries certain elements peculiar to itself. These can best be adjusted by the parties directly concerned. There are also cases where manufacturers, taking advantage of the government restrictions, benefit themselves."

Why Policy Is Bad.
"It is a bad policy because it is one which cannot go on indefinitely. It happens just now that we wish to buy a quantity of structural steel for an addition we are building to our London establishment. Now we want to buy that steel in England, but the prices quoted us thus far are too high. The material can be purchased in America and delivered here at a sufficiently lower price to warrant our going there for the several thousand tons we need. In a business such as ours all these things have a direct effect on the purchases of the people. Every item additional in the cost and maintenance of a distributing house like this does its part in keeping up the prices of goods sold over the counter."
"There are goods sold in America which the British people need and which they could obtain at a lower price if the restrictions were removed. It certainly would result in a saving in the pockets of the general British public."
"There need be no fear of overproduction on the part of any manufacturer or dealer in staple commodities here or in America. Everything they can produce will find a ready market for years to come, and at a fair profit. And differences that may exist between English and American concerns must be frankly faced and squarely adjusted."

Exchange Visits Helpful.
"To my mind the one thing that will do more for a better understanding is to encourage exchange visits between the two countries. A difference which often looms large when it is represented by bulky pile of letters and cablegrams might easily be settled in a friendly conversation of a few minutes. The more American and British business men who travel to the opposite shores and become well acquainted the better it will be for them and their respective countries."

SPANISH WAR, BORDER VETS WILL GET MEDALS

Dishonorably Discharged and Deserters Ineligible—Adjutant General to Receive Applications.

Bronze medals are to be issued to those who served in the Spanish war and on the Mexican border. Any officer or enlisted man of the Regular

Any officer or enlisted man of the National Guard who, under orders of the President, served on the Mexican border in the years 1916 and 1917 or who served as a member of the Mexican border patrol between January 1, 1916, and April 6, 1917, and who has not received the Mexican service badge, is entitled to the Mexican border service medal.

It is stated that neither of these medals will be awarded to men who have, subsequent to such service, been dishonorably discharged from the service or deserted. Applications for the new medals should be made to the adjutant general of the Army.
TAX PAID FOR PRESIDENT.
California Court Defendant Says He Acted as Patriotic Duty.
LOS ANGELES, June 12.—George A. Fox, convicted of obtaining money by false pretenses, prevented the sale of President Wilson's farm land in Riverside county for delinquent taxes by paying them himself. It became known here when Fox, who is in the county jail, received a telegram of thanks from J. P. Tumulty, the President's secretary. "I considered it my patriotic duty," was the only comment Fox made.

The tax bill was $37.21. The tract consists of sixty-one acres and was purchased before Mr. Wilson became President. Fox read a notice of the delinquent tax sale in a newspaper.
Ambergia, which forms a basis for nearly all the best quality perfume is very valuable, the largest piece of record, weighing 139 pounds, being sold for $2,600.
